Responsibility to Provide Quality Training

Coal Train's responsibility to provide quality training to our learners is achieved through our engagement with industry stakeholders (such as employers) ensuring that our training and assessment is aligned to current methods, technology, products and performance expectations for the workplace tasks specified in the training package requirements. By engaging with industry, our training and assessment practices and resources continue to meet the needs of industry, particularly in areas where technology and/or techniques change rapidly.

Our trainers and assessors must maintain the currency of their skills and knowledge in their industry area and in vocational education and training. Coal Train's trainers and assessors participate regularly in professional development.

Off Campus Arrangement

Coal Train are a highly mobile, flexible Registered Training Organisation. Coal Train are equipped to train at any workplace, at any time. We have our training facility located in Yeppoon and three mobile training trailers.

Coal Train have entered a partnership with the Blackwater International Coal Centre (BICC) for provision of training to the resources industry. We are also eager to work with local schools and community groups to support their training needs.

Course Delivery

Our courses are delivered by qualified and highly experienced trainers who remain current in both the industry and field of training and assessment. All trainers operate within the Australian Quality Training Framework principles and standards and are committed to the maintenance of professional standards in the delivery of our training.

Modes of Delivery

A delivery mode describes the way training will be delivered to support and enable learning. Broadly speaking, there are three delivery modes:

- Face-to-face
- Self-paced
- Blended learning.

At Coal Train, we deliver face-to-face training using scenarios, practical assessment and theory.

Assessment Methodology

Assessment in a competency-based environment is based around the acquisition of knowledge and then a demonstrable use of that knowledge in a practical sense. Participants in the program will be required to undertake assessment of a theoretical nature (question and answer), participate in group activities and demonstrate skills in the workplace.

All participants will be given two attempts at any one assessment. If a participant is deemed to have not satisfactorily met the assessment requirements after the first attempt, they will be given some one-on-one coaching and then permitted a second attempt. If after that attempt competence is still not achieved, a re-evaluation will take place which will include a discussion with an independent assessor (not the assessor who conducted the assessments), a review of the assessment outcome and then a decision about whether a third attempt may be made at the assessment with no further fees involved. If it is determined that a third attempt would unlikely be successful without a considerable amount of re-training, fees may apply. Any fees will be discussed with the participant, documented and agreed to before an invoice is raised.

If at any stage a participant feels that they are not being treated fairly in this process, an appeal can be lodged.

Explanation of Competency Based Training and Assessment

Competence describes the ability to consistently apply knowledge, skills and the right attitude to the performance standard required in the workplace. It includes the ability to transfer and apply that skill and knowledge to new situations and environments.

Competency based training was introduced as a means of:

- Improving the relevance of training to the workplace
- Improving the consistency of training outcomes around the country

Competency Based Training is based on the concept that people can learn transferable skills and most training is transferable.

Pathways Including Options if the Qualification is not Completed

Coal Train deliver national recognised training as full qualifications, skill sets or select units of competency. The units of competency delivered can be from:

- Skill sets
- Standalone competencies that are required for vocational licensing requirements
- Qualifications

Successful completion of units of competency can form part of qualifications which can be used as credit towards a full qualification. Your completion of competencies can be recognised by any Registered Training Organisation in Australia.

Working with Children

Whilst we do not exclude people under the age of 18 in our training and assessment programs, we offer only a few courses that may be suitable to a person who has not attained the age of 18. Parental/Guardian consent is required for all participants under 18 to participate in training and assessment. Some of these courses will have age restrictions due to legislative and/or regulatory requirements.

Fees and Charges

All Fees for courses are available on our website: www.coaltrain.com.au or as requested. Course fees are also stated in our student inductions which are sent to potential students upon booking confirmation.

Fees are payable immediately upon completion of selected course, unless otherwise agreed upon. If for any reason the participant withdraws from the course or is unable to complete it within the delegated time frame, the fee will be calculated at a pro-rata basis.

Cancellation Policy

Once a course booking is confirmed, please be aware that all cancellations or changes to the booking must be made in writing to Coal Train.

To avoid cancellation fees, we require a minimum of 24 hours notice prior to the commencement of the confirmed course of any cancellations or changes.

Payment Plans

To assist with course fees, Coal Train offer payment plans to students. A payment plan enables students to still achieve their training without the financial worry. A schedule of payments will be planned according to your financial needs and students will be able to pay a weekly agreed amount.

Refund

The 'Nature of Guarantee' given by Coal Train to complete the training and/or assessment once the candidate has commenced study is:

If a suitable time cannot be agreed upon with the candidate, Coal Train will offer a full refund of course fees.

VET Student Loans

From 1 January 2017, VET Student Loans were implemented. This is a new student loans program that replaces VET FEE-HELP scheme, to give eligible students access to quality higher level VET qualifications, particularly those students who could not otherwise afford to pay upfront.

Coal Train is not a provider of VET Student Loans, but we do offer competitive fees.

STUDENT INFORMATION

Enrolment

The enrolment form can be downloaded from www.coaltrain.com.au or as requested. Enrolment forms are sent to all participants upon confirmation booking. As part of our compliance as a Registered Training Organisation, we are required to have a completed enrolment form from each participant for each new enrolment. All applicants are required to satisfy prerequisite requirements, qualifications and /or experience where relevant to a particular course or Training package.

USI (Unique Student Identifier)

From 1 January 2015 it is a requirement under Commonwealth legislation and their conditions of registration that providers have a valid USI for a student before they issue that student with a qualification or statement of attainment. This applies to new students, pre-enrolled students and continuing students. The process for all students to obtain a USI (or for training providers to apply on their behalf with the student's permission) is the same.

New and continuing students undertaking nationally recognised Vocational Education and Training (VET) courses will need to have a USI to receive their statement of attainment or qualification. All students will be supplied a USI fact sheet and a consent form with their booking confirmation.

For further information about the Unique Student Identifier please refer to <https://www.usi.gov.au/>

Induction

Once all participants have completed the enrolment session they will complete an induction program which will cover:

- Confirmation of the course content to be delivered.
- The training and assessment procedures, including method, format and purpose of assessment.
- Confirmation that all the above information was provided and handouts were distributed.

Issuance (and re-issuance) of Qualifications

On successful completion of your training, you will be issued with a qualification or a statement of attainment via email which will detail the nationally recognised units of competency that you have completed with Coal Train. If you do require a printed copy of your qualification or statement of attainment, this fee will be $10.00 per course.

Your qualification or statement of attainment can only be issued directly to the learner and not to another party, such as an employer. Coal Train will store and hold records of issued qualifications and statement of attainments for 30 years. This retention period allows for reissuance of qualification and statement of attainments. In the event that Coal Train do cease operations, records will be stored by ASQA (Australian Skills Quality Authority) www.asqa.gov.au

Re-issue of Certificates will be a fee of $10.00 per course.

Participant Assessment Records Policy

We are committed to maintaining and safeguarding the accuracy, integrity and currency of records without jeopardising the confidentiality of the records or our participant's privacy.

Individual participant records will be stored in a locked secure office area and further archived in a RECALL facility. Our electronic records are stored and backed up weekly and are protected by password access, we further protect our records by maintaining up to date virus, firewall and spyware protection software.

Our software and hardcopy systems will retain participant results for a period of not less than 30 years.

All other records including, assessment records, taxation records, business and commercial records will be retained for a period of at least seven years. We will ensure that any confidential information acquired by us, individuals or committees or organisations acting upon our behalf is safeguarded.

Access to individual participant assessment records will be limited to those who require those records for specific purposes including:

- Trainers and Assessors who access and update the records of the participants with whom they are training.
- Management and administration staff as required to ensure the smooth and efficient operation of the business.
- Officers from:
 - DESBT (Department of Employment, Small Business and Training) or their representatives.
 - ASQA (Australian Skills Quality Authority) or their representatives.
 - WHSQ (Workplace Health and Safety Queensland) or their representatives
 - CSQ (Construction Skills Queensland) or their representatives
 - USI Management System (Unique Student Identifier Management System)

Or those required by law such as:

- People as permitted by law to access these records (e.g. subpoena / search warrants / social service benefits / evidence act).

Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) Assistance Policy

Different industries attract people of all ages, educational background, culture and abilities. Accordingly, Coal Train is aware of language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the various courses and works tirelessly to ensure all participants have opportunity to complete the course. Our standard assessments do require participants to be able to read and write and where applicable, some courses may also contain numerical calculations as part of the assessment.

Whilst basic LLN support can be provided by training staff and reasonable adjustment made where necessary, Coal Train identifies the need to obtain expert LLN support when required. Coal Train utilises the LLN Robot System to:

- Assess the learner's LLN levels

- Analyse the ACSF levels of the course
- Compare learner results with the ACSF levels of the course
- Generate individualised LLN Training Plan for the learner

The Coal Train CEO is skilled in program modification and has an extensive background in Learning Support and Special Needs. We will endeavour to help where we can accommodate anyone with Language, Literacy or Numeracy difficulties.

If a participant's needs exceed our skill we will refer the participant to an external support provider as stated below:

Adult English Language, Literacy and Numeracy:

TAFE Queensland English Language and Literacy Services (TELLS)

Telephone 07 3244 5488

Email tells@tafe.qld.edu.au (or contact your local TAFE Institute)

Support Services

Coal Train are able to offer support services if you require assistance throughout the training. Coal Train Trainers can provide support throughout your course. If you have any learning disabilities that require additional support from our staff, you will need to contact our office at least 48 hours prior to your course commencing. This will enable us to determine the support required and organise to have someone assist you throughout the duration of your training.

Please note that if Coal Train are not aware that you require support, we may not have a support staff available on the day. In this circumstance there may be a chance that you will need to reschedule to a different date where we will be able to provide the required support.

In addition to the above Coal Train provide support for training via email, phone and zoom sessions with experienced Trainer and Assessors.

Recognition of Prior Learning

Sometimes people enrol in a course and soon find that they have done the training before. All participants have the right to apply for recognition of prior learning or RPL.

RPL is an assessment process where partial or full credit can be granted for learning previously done through structured or unstructured training, work experience or by some other means. Of course, you must be able to show, through an assessment process, that the knowledge and skills you have are current and can be applied at the time you apply. Application forms for RPL are available through administration. Please call if you cannot access these or if you have any questions.

Credit Transfer

Credit transfer is a process not unlike RPL. If you have completed structured training which had modules or units of competency with content identical to the ones you are enrolling in, you may be eligible for a credit transfer. There are no fees involved in a credit transfer. Information and an application form are available on request.

National Recognition

When you undertake nationally recognised training, your qualification is valued equally throughout Australia. This is because all RTOs in Australia agree to nationally recognise all awards issued by any other RTO in the country. Credit means a credit towards a qualification and is applicable for a unit of competency.

Processes for the event of the RTO or Third-Party Ceasing Operations

In the event that Coal Train cease operating as a Registered Training Organisation, there are still obligations under the NVR (National VET Regulator) Act that we must comply with. Obligations include:

- Returning our certificate of registration to ASQA within 10 days of the day the withdrawal takes effect.
- Providing copies of student records to ASQA within 30 days of the day the withdrawal takes effect.
- ASQA will invoice Coal Train for any outstanding fees. These fees must be paid within 30 days of the date the invoice is issued.

The CEO must ensure that the student records:

- are sent in an electronic form to studentenquiries@asqa.gov.au
- include the following information for each student:
 - family name, first name
 - residential post code
 - date of birth
 - student ID number (if issued)
 - enrolment and commencement dates
 - code and title of qualification, course or program student enrolled in
 - codes and titles of units of competency completed and results (if applicable)
 - date the Certificate or Statement of Attainment was issued

Coal Train is committed to maintaining the privacy and confidentiality of its RTO personnel and participant records. Coal Train complies with the Privacy Act 1988 including the 13 Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) as outlined in the Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012.

As a component of our risk management practices, Coal Train has conducted a Privacy Impact Assessment for all operations. Mitigation actions from this risk assessment have been implemented for the management of privacy risks at each stage of the information lifecycle, including collection, use, disclosure, storage, destruction and de-identification.

Providing an overall framework for our privacy practices, Coal Train has developed and implemented this APP Privacy Policy.

Coal Train manages personal information in an open and transparent way. This is evident in the implementation of practices, procedures and system we outline in this policy, that ensure our compliance with the APPs and any binding registered APP code, and provide suitable procedures for Coal Train personnel to be able to deal with related inquiries and complaints that may be received from time to time.

Where this policy is updated, changes to the policy are widely communicated to stakeholders through internal personnel communications, meetings, training and documentation, and externally through publishing of the policy on Coal Train's website and other relevant documentation (such as our RTO Handbook) for clients.

Australian Privacy Principle 2 – Anonymity and pseudonymity

Coal Train provides individuals with the option of not identifying themselves, or of using a pseudonym, when dealing with us in relation to a particular matter, whenever practical. This includes providing options for anonymous dealings in cases of general course enquiries or other situations in which an individual's information is not required to complete a request.

Individuals may deal with us by using a name, term or descriptor that is different to the individual's actual name wherever possible. This includes using generic email addresses that does not contain an individual's actual name, or generic user names when individuals may access a public component of our website or enquiry forms.

Coal Train only stores and links pseudonyms to individual personal information in cases where this is required for service delivery (such as system login information) or once the individual's consent has been received.

Individuals are advised of their opportunity to deal anonymously or by pseudonym with us where these options are possible.

Requiring identification

Coal Train must require and confirm identification however in service delivery to individuals for nationally recognised course programs. We are authorised by Australian law to deal only with individuals who have appropriately identified themselves. That is, it is a Condition of Registration for all RTOs under the National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011 that we identify individuals and their specific individual needs on commencement of service delivery, and collect and disclose Australian Vocational Education and Training Management of Information Statistical Standard (AVETMISS) data on all individuals enrolled in nationally recognised training programs. Other legal requirements, as noted earlier in this policy, also require considerable identification arrangements.

There are also other occasions also within our service delivery where an individual may not have the option of dealing anonymously or by pseudonym, as identification is practically required for us to effectively support an individual's request or need.

Australian Privacy Principle 3 — Collection of solicited personal information

Coal Train only collects personal information that is reasonably necessary for our business activities.

We only collect sensitive information in cases where the individual consents to the sensitive information being collected, except in cases where we are required to collect this information by law, such as outlined earlier in this policy.

All information we collect is collected only by lawful and fair means.

We only collect solicited information directly from the individual concerned, unless it is unreasonable or impracticable for the personal information to only be collected in this manner.

Australian Privacy Principle 4 – Dealing with unsolicited personal information

Coal Train may from time to time receive unsolicited personal information. Where this occurs we promptly review the information to decide whether or not we could have collected the information for the purpose of our business activities. Where this is the case, we may hold, use and disclose the information appropriately as per the practices outlined in this policy.

Where we could not have collected this information (by law or for a valid business purpose) we immediately destroy or de-identify the information (unless it would be unlawful to do so).

Australian Privacy Principle 5 – Notification of the collection of personal information

Whenever Coal Train collects personal information about an individual, we take reasonable steps to notify the individual of the details of the information collection or otherwise ensure the individual is aware of those matters. This notification occurs at or before the time of collection, or as soon as practicable afterwards.

Our notifications to individuals on data collection include:

- Coal Train’s identity and contact details, including the position title, telephone number and email address of a contact who handles enquiries and requests relating to privacy matters;
- The facts and circumstances of collection such as the date, time, place and method of collection, and whether the information was collected from a third party, including the name of that party;
- If the collection is required or authorised by law, including the name of the Australian law or other legal agreement requiring the collection;
- The purpose of collection, including any primary and secondary purposes;
- The consequences for the individual if all or some personal information is not collected;
- Other organisations or persons to which the information is usually disclosed, including naming those parties;
- A link to this APP Privacy Policy on our website or explain how it may be accessed; and
- Advice that this APP Privacy Policy contains information about how the individual may access and seek correction of the personal information held by us; and how to complain about a breach of the APPs, or any registered APP code, and how we will deal with such a complaint.

Where possible, we ensure that the individual confirms their understanding of these details, such as through signed declarations, website form acceptance of details or in person through questioning.

Collection from third parties

Where Coal Train collects personal information from another organisation, we:

1. Confirm whether the other organisation has provided the relevant notice above to the individual; or
2. Whether the individual was otherwise aware of these details at the time of collection; and
3. If this has not occurred, we will undertake this notice to ensure the individual is fully informed of the information collection.

Australian Privacy Principle 6 – Use or disclosure of personal information

Coal Train only uses or discloses personal information it holds about an individual for the particular primary purposes for which the information was collected, or secondary purposes in cases where:

- An individual consented to a secondary use or disclosure;
- An individual would reasonably expect the secondary use or disclosure, and that is directly related to the primary purpose of collection; or
- Using or disclosing the information is required or authorised by law.

Requirement to make a written note of use or disclosure for this secondary purpose

If Coal Train uses or discloses personal information in accordance with an ‘enforcement related activity’ we will make a written note of the use or disclosure, including the following details:

- The date of the use or disclosure;
- Details of the personal information that was used or disclosed;
- The enforcement body conducting the enforcement related activity;

- If the organisation used the information, how the information was used by the organisation;
- The basis for our reasonable belief that we were required to disclose the information.

Australian Privacy Principle 7 – Direct marketing

Coal Train does not use or disclose the personal information that it holds about an individual for the purpose of direct marketing, unless:

- The personal information has been collected directly from an individual, and the individual would reasonably expect their personal information to be used for the purpose of direct marketing; or
- The personal information has been collected from a third party, or from the individual directly, but the individual does not have a reasonable expectation that their personal information will be used for the purpose of direct marketing; and
- We provide a simple method for the individual to request not to receive direct marketing communications (also known as ‘opting out’).

On each of our direct marketing communications, Coal Train provides a prominent statement that the individual may request to opt out of future communications, and how to do so.

An individual may also request us at any stage not to use or disclose their personal information for the purpose of direct marketing, or to facilitate direct marketing by other organisations. We comply with any request by an individual promptly and undertake any required actions for free.

We also, on request, notify an individual of our source of their personal information used or disclosed for the purpose of direct marketing unless it is unreasonable or impracticable to do so.

Australian Privacy Principle 8 – Cross-border disclosure of personal information

Coal Train does not disclose personal information about an individual to any overseas recipient.

Australian Privacy Principle 9 – Adoption, use or disclosure of government related identifiers

Coal Train does not adopt, use or disclose a government related identifier related to an individual except:

- In situations required by Australian law or other legal requirements;
- Where reasonably necessary to verify the identity of the individual;
- Where reasonably necessary to fulfil obligations to an agency or a State or Territory authority; or
- As prescribed by regulations.

Australian Privacy Principle 10 – Quality of personal information

Coal Train takes reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information it collects is accurate, up-to-date and complete. We also take reasonable steps to ensure that the personal information we use or disclose is, having regard to the purpose of the use or disclosure, accurate, up-to-date, complete and relevant. This is particularly important where:

- When we initially collect the personal information; and
- When we use or disclose personal information.

We take steps to ensure personal information is factually correct. In cases of an opinion, we ensure information takes into account competing facts and views and makes an informed assessment, providing it is clear this is an opinion. Information is confirmed up-to-date at the point in time to which the personal information relates.

Quality measures in place supporting these requirements include:

- Internal practices, procedures and systems to audit, monitor, identify and correct poor quality personal information (including training staff in these practices, procedures and systems);
- Protocols that ensure personal information is collected and recorded in a consistent format, from a primary information source when possible;
- Ensuring updated or new personal information is promptly added to relevant existing records;
- Providing individuals with a simple means to review and update their information on an on-going basis through our online portal;
- Reminding individuals to update their personal information at critical service delivery points (such as completion) when we engage with the individual;
- Contacting individuals to verify the quality of personal information where appropriate when it is about to be used or disclosed, particularly if there has been a lengthy period since collection; and
- Checking that a third party, from whom personal information is collected, has implemented appropriate data quality practices, procedures and systems.

Australian Privacy Principle 11 — Security of personal information

Coal Train takes active measures to consider whether we are able to retain personal information we hold, and also to ensure the security of personal information we hold. This includes reasonable steps to protect the information from misuse, interference and loss, as well as unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

We destroy or de-identify personal information held once the information is no longer needed for any purpose for which the information may be legally used or disclosed.

Access to Coal Train offices and work areas is limited to our personnel only - visitors to our premises must be authorised by relevant personnel and are accompanied at all times. With regard to any information in a paper based form, we maintain storage of records in an appropriately secure place to which only authorised individuals have access.

Regular staff training and information bulletins are conducted with Coal Train personnel on privacy issues, and how the APPs apply to our practices, procedures and systems. Training is also included in our personnel induction practices.

We conduct ongoing internal audits (at least annually and as needed) of the adequacy and currency of security and access practices, procedures and systems implemented.

Australian Privacy Principle 12 — Access to personal information

Where Coal Train holds personal information about an individual, we provide that individual access to the information on their request. In processing requests, we:

- Ensure through confirmation of identity that the request is made by the individual concerned, or by another person who is authorised to make a request on their behalf;
- Respond to a request for access:

- Within 14 calendar days, when notifying our refusal to give access, including providing reasons for refusal in writing, and the complaint mechanisms available to the individual; or
 - Within 30 calendar days, by giving access to the personal information that is requested in the manner in which it was requested.
- Provide information access free of charge.

Australian Privacy Principle 13 – Correction of personal information

Coal Train takes reasonable steps to correct personal information we hold, to ensure it is accurate, up-to-date, complete, relevant and not misleading, having regard to the purpose for which it is held.

Individual Requests

On an individual's request, we:

- Correct personal information held; and
- Notify any third parties of corrections made to personal information, if this information was previously provided to these parties.

In cases where we refuse to update personal information, we:

- Give a written notice to the individual, including the reasons for the refusal and the complaint mechanisms available to the individual;
- Upon request by the individual whose correction request has been refused, take reasonable steps to associate a statement with the personal information that the individual believes it to be inaccurate, out-of-date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading;
- Respond within 14 calendar days to these requests; and
- Complete all actions free of charge.

Correcting at Coal Train's initiative

We take reasonable steps to correct personal information we hold in cases where we are satisfied that the personal information held is inaccurate, out-of-date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading (that is, the information is faulty). This awareness may occur through collection of updated information, in notification from third parties or through other means.
